

Connections Town and Steeple

Over the course of the term, this class will cover an array of topics! Come to hear updates about the We Choose Welcome initiative and the refugee experience in the Triangle; Gene Nichol's thoughts on poverty (January 21); local efforts for Habitat for Humanity, and join the discussion about movies and media. All are invited to contribute to the conversation from week to week.

Bible Study Faith and Money

Join others seeking to bring their relationship with God and their relationship with money into greater alignment. We'll look to biblical wisdom about money and consider where it challenges conventional wisdom. We'll share our own stories of money, encouraging one another toward greater faithfulness and freedom. We'll wrestle with questions of "enough" and talk about how money can cause anxiety, shame, and guilt, and we'll also discuss how we might walk further into the gospel's invitation to generosity, justice, and sustainability.
